The Mennonite Church in 1965

BY A. J. METZLER
Executive Secretary of Mennonite General Conference

The Mennonite Yearbook has long been the guide and source of information for church workers in our general church offices and in district conference and congregational work. Each year it also becomes the source of information for many more ordained and lay persons who are engaged in, and intimately related to, the life and work of the brotherhood in all areas of service. Few publications contain a similar wealth of information brought together in an orderly and usable fashion. Many thousands of us, in our own brotherhood and beyond, are deeply indebted to the editor and his associates for their year-round work in preparing these materials.

Since it is mainly a reference book that will be used frequently, and for many of us daily throughout the year, we do well to acquaint ourselves immediately with the nature of the material and its organization. The better we understand it the more frequently we will find ourselves turning to it for help and guidance.

The following are the four major divisions and the pages on which each begins: (1) The organizations and personnel of General Conference, church boards, institutions, and committees, page 12; (2) The statistical section, page 59; (3) The directory of congregations and conferences, page 76; and, (4) The ministerial directory, page 111. This latter includes not only the ministers of the nearly 100,000 members of the Mennonite Church, but the only complete Mennonite ministerial directory in the world.

Another way of stating the purpose of the Mennonite Yearbook is that it is intended to tell: (1) Who we are. (2) What we are doing. (3) Where we are doing it. (4) How we are doing it—organizationally. (5) Resources used in doing it—persons, facilities, funds.

The use of figures in this introduction will largely be in round numbers showing statistical items in approximate amounts. This is done for two reasons. In the first place, it is much easier for the reader to remember, and in the second place, by the date of publication most statistics are a year old and, therefore, do not accurately reflect the current picture anyway.

Regarding the membership which is now 96,073, you will find this brotherhood divided into twenty-one district conferences, related to Mennonite General Conference. The following indicates the growth of the membership during the past sixty years.

MENNONITE CHURCH MEMBERSHIP GROWTH

1904 TO 1964

1904-25,207
1914-34,848	increase of 9,641-38%
1924-41,912	increase of 7,064-20%
1934-52,403	increase of 10,491-25%
1944-59,754	increase of 7,351-14%
1954-74,623	increase of 14,869-25%
1964-96,073	increase of 21,450-29%

A comparison of the year-by-year increase in membership indicates that it would vary from about one to nine percent annually. The growth of 29 percent during the past ten years compares with an approximate twenty percent growth in the membership of Protestant churches in the United States in a similar period.

The constituency of twenty-one district conferences are all eligible for membership in Mennonite General Conference. However, only seventeen of them are officially a part of General Conference. The other four cooperate closely and, for all practical purposes, constitute a part of the total brotherhood. These conferences are listed in the chart on page 4 as well as in the directory of conferences and congregations. When one notices that there are 1,133 congregations in this fellowship, we see that there are a few more than eighty members in the average congregation. Pursuing this further, one sees a block of a few more than 100 congregations with from 200 to 700 members each which means that by far the larger portion of our congregations are smaller than the average of eighty members.

General Conference will be meeting this year in its biennial sessions August 24-27 at the Central Christian High School, Kidron, Ohio. This will bring together representatives from all conferences at home and abroad, as well as from all organizations and institutions. The delegate body chosen by conferences will constitute about 250 people, one for each 200 members in the respective conferences.

The General Council of 37 members is made up of the Executive Committee of General Conference, the past moderator, one member each from the general church boards and committees and from the district conferences. This Council serves as a sharing committee. It has met twice during the past biennium, in February of each year, 1964 in Chicago and 1965 at Laurelville. At the time of the last meeting most of the committees of General Conference, as well as the executive committees of the boards, met for two or three days previous to the General Council meeting. Representatives of these committees then joined with the General Council in taking a total look at the programs being projected for the next biennium. This was intended to help to further coordinate the total task of the brotherhood and most effectively interpret and promote this to the constituency. There is a growing awareness of the need of all agencies in the church responsible for planning and administering programs to work more closely in this, for, after all, we are serving the same brotherhood, and the resources in personnel and funds come from the same people for the total program with its various parts.

We shall notice briefly the services of the various General Conference committees as shown under General Conference organization, beginning on page 12.

The Coordinating Committee serves the General Council and the several boards and agencies in attempting a major function of General Conference and the Council, which is the effecting of a greater coordination and cooperation in all areas of the cooperative efforts of the brotherhood through General Conference and its agencies.

The Church Welfare Committee receives questions of major concern and interest in the matter of interconference relationships or other problems affecting the general progress and welfare of the church.

The Economic and Social Relations and Peace Problems committees have closely related areas of concern and responsibility for the brotherhood. In fact, their work is so closely related, and sometimes overlapping, that for a few years they have been using one person serving as executive secretary for both committees. Plans are well developed for the merging of these two committees. The next sessions of General Conference will likely approve such a merger. This no doubt will help to facilitate the services of the church in its ministry and witness in the area of peace and social concerns. It will also make possible better relations and cooperation with MCC and other Mennonite groups working at the same concerns.

The Historical and Research Committee is charged with receiving, classifying, and preserving the important documents, proceedings, and similar information of the church. It also serves all areas of the church's work in carrying out the necessary research projects. It is very helpful to have a competent office to care for this type of work when needed by the various church offices.

Since the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education is responsible for the development of curriculum and improving and strengthening the various Christian educational services, it works very closely with the Publishing House, which is responsible for the actual publication and distribution of these materials. A major area of the Commission's work is its sponsoring the Mennonite Youth Fellowship, with its own field secretary. Very significant leadership is being provided to youth and youth workers in congregations and conferences. Youth are truly being challenged to more effective witness and full commitment.

In addition to the several services for which Mennonite Mutual Aid has been organized, the more recent is its provision for retirement services for church workers. This has been much needed and will doubtless receive the heartiest support and use by the institutions and workers of the church.

The Ministerial Committee has a major responsibility in assisting in maintaining a competent, committed body of pastors for the more than 1,000 congregations. It works very closely with congregations and conferences, especially conference ministerial committees. As directed by the last sessions of General Conference, it has further studied the needs and possibilities of providing information and services to individuals and congregations in meeting pastoral needs. It will be recommending a plan to General Conference in this respect. There seems to be an increasing shortage of pastors. There is much need of encouraging more young men to consider this important ministry, and to help them in the necessary preparation for it.

The Worship Committee is a successor to the former Music Committee. It has inherited the work of the former, but has an enlarged scope of service.

The Secretary of Stewardship is now serving in the fourth year. The urgent need for these services has been shown by the keen interest in, and eager use of, the help the Stewardship Secretary is rendering. His work is under the guidance of the Committee on Coordination of Church Program and through the Stewardship Council, with most members representing conferences.

The three church boards—the Mennonite Board of Education, the Mennonite Publication Board, and the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities—are quite similar in their method of representation, their organization, and their mode of operations. The major means of representation on the boards is by conference election, while each of the boards also chooses a certain number of members at large, and General Conference elects three to five members on each of the boards.

Furthermore, these boards have much in common, in that they are largely autonomous, responsible directly to district conferences through the elected members. While they give courtesy reports to General Conference, they are not officially responsible to it. However, although these boards are largely autonomous, they seek to ascertain the needs and wishes of the total constituency and serve the brotherhood in a coordinated way.

The Mennonite Publication Board serves the church through the Mennonite Publishing House. These services require more than 200 workers and an investment of above two million dollars. Annual sales are more than two and one half million dollars. In proportion to our membership this is possibly the largest denominational publishing house. The Publishing Agent's annual report gives the complete and fascinating picture of this arm of the church. It is free for the asking.

The organized mission work of the church is carried forward on three levels—the congregation, the district conference, and the brotherhood's cooperative efforts through the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. The latter, in its extensive ministry at home and abroad, employs the services of about 1,400 people and receives and uses nearly two million dollars annually. A sum only a little less is used by the district mission boards in their services. Our brotherhood has nearly 500 missionaries in twenty-eight countries of the world. The cooperative work of congregations and conferences through the Mission Board includes not only direct evangelism, but our radio ministry, voluntary services employing young and old, and other charitable work by homes and institutions.

The story of the varied ministries of our church at home and abroad is clearly pictured in the annual handbook which is available by writing to the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, 1711 Prairie Street, Elkhart, Ind. An evening spent studying this 269-page report for 1964 will prove extremely interesting and profitable. The Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities also publishes an annual, Missions Yearbook, which reports on its annual meeting, home missions, overseas missions, institutions and other activities.

Guidance for the educational work of our church, other than Christian education in the local church, is the responsibility of the Mennonite Board of Education. The Board's concern includes the more than 200 related elementary schools, eleven high schools, two colleges, a seminary and a nurses' training school. The Board of Education administers Hesston (Kansas) College and Goshen (Indiana) College and Biblical Seminary.

The Higher Education Council of the Board of Education recently completed an extensive survey to ascertain the needs for training of the young folks of the church on both the secondary and collegiate levels. Information from this study, or regarding other phases of the church's educational program, can be secured from the Educational Coordinator, Paul Bender, Goshen College, Goshen, Ind.

You have in hand the information regarding the organizations, persons, funds, and other statistics related to the life and work of the church. Of course to really know the Mennonite Church, you must personally meet the people, read its publications, visit and become involved in at least some of these many varied and world-wide ministries of love and compassion being done for and in the name of Christ.

John L. Horst, 1889-1964

By Ellrose D. Zook

The Lord raises up men and women to serve Him and His church at a time when they are most needed. By faith these persons in turn hear the call of God and give their abilities, effort, and time with unreserved dedication and purpose. John Lehman Horst was one of these men—a man who heard the call, answered, served, and gave himself to the service of the church for a period of almost forty-five years. As an editor, writer, pastor, bishop, churchman, and last as teacher to thousands of Bible correspondence students, he was known, loved, and respected as a person fully dedicated to Christ and His service.

John Lehman Horst, a son of Michael and Lydia Lehman Horst, was born Nov. 9, 1889, at Chambersburg, Pa. Here in the rich farming country of Cumberland Valley he grew up with two brothers, Samuel and Isaac, both of whom preceded him in death. The journey of life came to an end for him on Tuesday morning, Nov. 24, 1964, at the age of 75 as a result of a coronary attack.

On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 24, 1935, he married Emma Zimmerman at Eastern Mennonite School, Harrisonburg, Va. Sister Zimmerman had served as Dean of Women at the school 1923-35. J. L. Stauffer preached the sermon and S. H.

Rhodes performed the ceremony. They made their home in Scotland where Brother Horst had been serving since 1920. Into the home were born two children, John Jr., and Rachel (Mrs. James Witmer), who with Sister Horst survive.

Editor and Writer

In the December, 1953, Christian Monitor, the last issue which he edited and the last to be published, Brother Horst writes briefly about his "Personal Reminiscences" of his coming to Scottdale. He says, "Through the influence of Bro. Daniel Kauffman, editor of the Gospel Herald, I was led to come to Scottdale to work in the Publishing House. . . . He is the person who in an interview during a series of meetings at the Chambersburg, Pa., Mennonite Church suggested that I come to Scottdale and give my life in service in the cause of publishing Christian literature. In him I found a warm friend, a wise counselor, and a valued spiritual leader." Kauffman held a Bible conference and evangelistic meetings at Chambersburg Jan. 10-18, 1920.

Brother Horst spent a day at Scottdale on March 11, 1920. In mid-April, 1920, he returned to become a worker at the Mennonite Publishing House. He says, "It was quite a change from the farm to the printshop." He became first a Linotype operator, later a proofreader and an editorial assistant. The editorial work was done in the office of Daniel Kauffman where Brother Horst says, "It was an education in itself to work day by day under his tutelage and benign influence. Copy editing and rewriting articles were among my routine tasks, as well as crediting subscription lists. These years were fruitful in experience and training for later responsibilities."

When Daniel Kauffman left in August, 1922, to serve as president of Goshen College for one year, John L. Horst became associate editor of the Gospel Herald, his name first appearing in the Aug. 17, 1922, issue. He served in this position until the March 18, 1953, issue, a period of almost 36 years. His first editorial assignment was to become editor of The Way along with J. H. Mosemann, Sr., beginning with the November, 1923, issue. He served as editor until the October, 1948, issue. He also served as Tract Editor for a number of years.

One of his most important editorial positions was that of editor of the Christian Monitor from January, 1930, until it ceased publication in December, 1953. He served as editor twenty-four of the forty-five years of the Christian Monitor. It was a magazine for the home for both young people and adults. It was succeeded by Christian Living which replaced the Christian Monitor and The Mennonite Community.

He also served as editor of the Mennonite Yearbook (1925-42) and Family Almanac until 1942. As to other editorial work he writes, "Also during the years I occasionally helped Brother Ressler in editing the Words of Cheer and Beams of Light. I also did considerable book editing."

He also filled an important place in the writing and editing of Sunday-school lesson helps. He writes as follows: "In 1925, when our Sunday-school materials were regrouped and reorganized, I was given the task of editing the new Junior Teacher's Quarterly. This was continued through December, 1936, when it was changed to the Junior-Intermediate Teacher's Quarterly, which ran on through September, 1950. Thus I was privileged to serve in the field of Sunday-school lesson writing for nearly twenty-five years."

As one reads his editorials and articles which he wrote for the Gospel Herald and Christian Monitor, one is impressed with his concern for the welfare of the church, a seriousness of purpose, and a practical approach to the problems of the brotherhood.

In his youth a common school education was followed by work on the farm. He attended the Bible Institute of Los Angeles for a short term during spring of 1924. The remainder of his education came from personal reading, study, observation, and learning from experience and fellow workers.

His sound judgment, good understanding of the interests of his readers, and a fully developed editorial "sixth" sense guided him in his editorial policy and planning of the publications on which he worked. New ideas and new plans were adopted only after he felt certain that readers could be helped by them. He was an editor who as he moved forward in improvement of appearance and contents of his magazine was able to take his readers with him, a rare skill emulated by every serious editor.

Pastor and Bishop

In the congregation at Scottdale he soon became active as song leader, Sunday-school superintendent, and teacher. He was first elected superintendent in June, 1928, a position he filled for a number of years. He was a member of the Bible School Committee for several years, serving as its chairman for more than ten years. He was ordained to the ministry Dec. 1, 1929, and served with other ministers until Oct. 27, 1935, when by action of the congregation he was asked to serve as pastor of the congregation. Those with whom he served up until this time were Aaron Loucks, Daniel Kauffman, J. A. Ressler, J. A. Brihart, A. J. Metzler, and C. B. Shoemaker. During his pastorate the old church building dedicated in 1893 was razed on March 6, 1939, and a new building erected and dedicated on Aug. 6, 1939. He served as chairman of the Building Committee. On Sept. 7, 1946, he was ordained to the office of bishop with D. I. Stonerook and A. J. Metzler in charge of the ordination services. He served the congregation well as pastor and bishop until his retirement in 1957, when he was succeeded by A. J. Metzler as bishop and Willis Hallman as pastor.

Loyalty, unity, and outreach characterized his leadership as pastor and bishop. As Sunday-school superintendent he brought in families from outlying areas to the Sunday school. During his ministry the work was opened at North Scottdale on July 1, 1934. In 1952 a church building was erected at Kingview and soon after the work was organized as a separate congregation. He served as bishop of the three congregations until his retirement.

In addition to his emphasis and concern for witness in the community his sermons and leadership emphasized loyalty and unity. His good success as a leader was measured by his achieving a unity in the congregation made up of members who came to Scottdale from varying backgrounds and traditions. His devotion and loyalty to the church found expression in his sermons and in his fellowship and committee work with members of the congregation. He was loved and appreciated for his helpful counseling, his sound judgment, and his warm but penetrating sense of humor.

A Leader in Conference Work

Because of his wide experience as an editor, minister, and bishop his service was soon in demand in the district conference and Mennonite General Conference. He served as bishop of churches in Cumberland, Meyersdale, and Washington, D.C. He was president of the district mission board, 1936-51, during which time the Johnstown Mission was opened by the board. He served first as assistant secretary of conference (1939-46) and then secretary (1946-50). He represented conference on the Mennonite Publication Board 1933-46. He also was moderator of conference, 1952-56.

In Mennonite General Conference he served as assistant moderator, 1957-59, secretary of the General Problems Committee, member of the Interboard Committee, and member of the Mennonite Commission for Christian Education (1937-51). On this organization he served as Secretary of Statistics (1937-47). He was secretary of the Mennonite Relief Committee of the General Mission Board (1935-42) and later became chairman (1942-49). During this postwar reconstruction period the Mennonite Relief Committee performed an especially valuable service to the church in opening up relief work and sending workers to China, India, Ethiopia, Belgium, and Poland. In the fall of 1945 the committee sent him to Belgium as a special commissioner to investigate relief needs in that country. The committee also sponsored American service units, 16 of these units being in operation in 1948. In 1957 he was delegate of the Allegheny Mennonite Conference to the Mennonite World Conference at Karlsruhe, Germany.

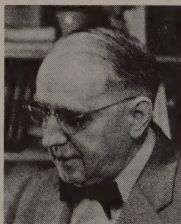

As a churchman on the various boards and committees we see him actively interested in the growth and expansion of the service of the brotherhood. He understood the questions and interests of the people and used his influence and insights to carry forward what he felt was the will of the church and of Christ. Quietness and humility characterized his attitudes and working relationships. An understanding of how people work together and respond to each other helped him guide the policies and activities of whatever project he found himself engaged in.

The Joyful Years

Upon his retirement in 1957 and taking up residence in Harrisonburg, Va., he began work with the Mennonite Hour. Here he began what was called his "career in retirement," a career in which in his own words he found much joy and satisfaction. The tensions and responsibilities of editorial, congregational, and committee administration were burdens he no longer needed to carry. As Bible correspondence instructor he became known to more than 20,000 students as "your teacher." Here was his second and last "pastorate." These students during the last seven years of his life were privileged to enjoy the inexhaustible wealth of experience that came to him as editor, pastor, bishop, and churchman.

This last period of service to Christ was thus a joyous one, one which challenged him with the limitless spiritual resources that were his. One student wrote as a tribute: "Without Rev. Horst's words of encouragement he so frequently jotted down on my worksheet, I would never have found Christ. I pray our heavenly Father should reward him abundantly for his service well done."

While at his work on the morning of Nov. 24 he was stricken suddenly with a coronary attack and a few hours later he answered the high call of his Saviour and Lord. Funeral services were held Nov. 27 at the chapel of Eastern Mennonite College, Harrisonburg, Va. Burial was in the cemetery of the Weaver Mennonite Church near Harrisonburg, Va.

Walter E. Yoder, 1889-1964

Walter E. Yoder, who died on October 30, 1964, at Goshen, Ind., exerted a profound influence on music education in the Mennonite Church during his life.

He was a brother with a rare spirit—a brother pure in heart—a brother who made a deep impact on his fellow Christians throughout the church and on his students and colleagues at

This article by Mervin D. Zook of the College Relations Office of Goshen College has been prepared from a tribute by Mary Oyer and the autobiography of Walter E. Yoder.

Goshen College, where he spent 26 of his 75 years shaping and leading the department of music.

On campus or off, he was the person who, whether teaching, leading singing, or greeting one briefly, gave himself with warm and genuine interest to the other person or group. He was the person who accepted his neighbor so graciously that he disarmed him and gave him freedom to be himself. He was the person whose Christian faith shone out quite clearly and who, therefore, moved with a reverent confidence.

Born in 1889

Walter E. Yoder was born on the Pretty Prairie, near Howe, Lagrange County, Indiana, on January 8, 1889, the son of Eli D. and Sarah (Hooley) Yoder. Walter had two brothers, one half brother, and seven sisters.

At the age of three his family sold their farm and moved to the Hawpatch, near Topeka, in the southwestern corner of the county. He attended the Maple Grove Mennonite Church there as a boy and young man.

One evening in December, 1903, then a pupil in the eighth grade, he accepted Christ as his personal Saviour while he was doing chores. An evangelist, Jacob Gerig, Smithville, Ohio, was conducting a series of meetings at the Maple Grove church at the time. A brother in the church had told the lad, "Walter, we hope you will accept Christ. I am praying for you."

Later, Walter had another experience that guided him through his life. When he was a high school pupil, M. S. Steiner, president of the Mennonite Evangelizing Board, called upon all young persons to commit their lives fully to Christ at an Indiana-Michigan Sunday-school Conference at the Maple Grove Church. Walter responded and indicated that he would be willing to serve Him wherever He might lead.

Music Interest at Age of 10

From the time he was ten years old, Walter was interested in music. Late one summer afternoon a Goshen music store delivered a reed organ to the Yoder home. Since there was no regulation in the Maple Grove Church prohibiting families from owning organs and since his parents and their children sang and enjoyed music, they consented to having the organ put in their house. That evening the family stood around the organ and sang Gospel hymns while the salesman played the organ. Soon afterward Walter began to take lessons.

He was graduated from Topeka high school in the spring of 1908. That summer he attended Goshen College for the required 12 weeks of preparatory work for schoolteaching. He taught first in Clearspring Township in Lagrange County. After the seven months' term, he returned to the college for the 12 weeks' spring term and the summer term, which together comprised his freshman year.

After a second year of teaching in Lagrange County, he returned to the college and studied in the music teacher's certificate course. After that summer session, he went to Johnson County, Iowa, where he taught the fall term and where he taught his first of many singing classes throughout the Mennonite Church at the East Union Church, Kalona.

Decision for a Life of Music

After his first singing class Bro. Yoder felt his life work would be in some phase of music. He returned to Goshen College and studied under John D. Brunk, to whom, he later said, he owed much for his interest in good hymn singing, unaccompanied congregational singing, and an improved church hymnody. He completed the music teacher's certificate course in 1913. The next few years he taught singing classes and, when he was invited, directed the music for evangelistic services. He worked with Amos W. Geigley, S. E. Allgyer, C. Z. Yoder, J. S. Hartzler, and C. F. Derstine.

In 1917 Bro. Yoder married Matilda M. Schertz. To this union were born seven children—Mrs. Elta Ehret, Goshen; Mrs. Mildred Yoder, Goshen; Mrs. Mary Troyer, Watford, Pa.; Paul, Cleveland, Ohio; David, Bristol, Ind.; Ruth Evelyn (Nov. 20, 1918-Aug. 26, 1921), and Harold Dean (Sept. 16, 1924-Aug. 19, 1925).

In the same year that he married, the United States entered World War I. Bro. Yoder claimed exemption from the draft on grounds of his religious convictions. Because of the draft he could not leave the country and he canceled a tour to churches in Saskatchewan and Alberta for singing classes and took up farming with his father-in-law at Metamora, Ill. Farming provided his livelihood for 14 years.

In 1925 he organized a men's chorus, composed of members from Metamora, Roanoke, and Calvary Mennonite churches. He directed it until he moved to Goshen in 1931.

Invitation to Join Faculty

When he directed the music at the Young People's Institute at Goshen College in 1930, Dean Noah Oyer asked him to consider teaching music and directing the choruses at the college. After deliberation, he accepted the invitation and he and his family moved to Goshen in September, 1931. A professor of voice, he continued his preparation for the teaching of music by completing the requirements for the degree of bachelor of science in education at Goshen College, where he was graduated in 1933. By attending summer sessions at Northwestern University until 1937, he was graduated with the master of music degree.

During his first years at the college, he taught singing, elementary harmony, advanced harmony, history of music, and directed the a cappella, men's, and women's choruses. In 1936 he traveled with the a cappella chorus in its first spring tour, which was to churches in Chicago and Illinois.

Under his leadership, a major in music was first offered at the college in the late 1930's. He used the meager material resources at his disposal during the depression to open up rich new worlds to his students. He stimulated his music theory students to compose by continuing to compose himself and by performing their works with his choruses. He was interested in writing hymn tunes, of which the most widely used is "Teach Me Thy Truth." Although he was not an instrumentalist, he maintained a constant hope of establishing an orchestra at the college—a hope that he saw fulfilled shortly before his retirement in 1957.

His vision was broad enough not only to accept and absorb changes that took place over his 30 years of teaching but also to guide the direction of many of those changes. The college student body learned to know him well through his leading of chapel singing. He had a remarkable intuition about group singing—how fast or slowly should a particular group sing on a particular day to find the hymn most helpful? Or, which hymn would be most appropriate for a given occasion? His judgments in these matters were almost uncanny.

Bro. Yoder's sensitivity to both poetry and music guided him in shaping a kind of "canon" of hymns that has become basic to worship at Goshen College and at the Goshen College Mennonite Church. Many present students, who unfortunately did not know him, nevertheless, have felt the influence of his taste through their parents or song leaders who had deepened their appreciation under his leading.

Member of Music Committee

Bro. Yoder's experience with singing classes and his students at the college helped him to make a significant contribution to the editing of Mennonite hymnals.

In 1913 he was elected to the General Conference music committee. In the spring of 1914, he and the other members met for almost a week at the home of C. Z. Yoder, Smithville, Ohio, to compile Life Songs, a book of Gospel songs for use at mission stations, Sunday schools, and in young people's and evangelistic meetings.

While working on Life Songs, the committee became aware of the weakness of many songs to instill a worship experience in depth and recommended to the General Conference that a hymnal be compiled. In 1919 the music committee was commissioned to begin gathering materials for the hymnal.

Bro. Yoder met with the committee each year until 1927, when the Church Hymnal was completed. In 1937 he was a member of the committee that compiled Life Songs No. 2, published the next year.

Editor of Junior Hymns

A teacher in the summer Bible school at the Goshen College church, Bro. Yoder saw the need for three-part songs for children 9 to 13 years old. He arranged about 80 hymns, later published in Junior Hymns, which he edited. In addition he worked on some 40 other songs that were suggested by the writers of the Herald Press summer Bible school series and included them in Junior Hymns.

In 1949 he and the Music Committee began compiling material for a second hymnal, Songs of the Church, that would be helpful to church choruses and that would build on the church's new interest in singing. He did research in the church's German hymnody of the early nineteenth century and found many good German chorales. Translated, they were included in Songs of the Church, edited by Bro. Yoder, and published in 1953. He also helped compile materials for a children's song book, Our Hymns of Praise, edited by J. Mark Stauffer and published in 1958.

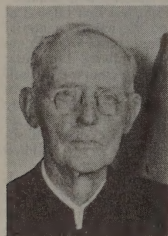

At the time of his death, he was coeditor with Lester Hostetler in the joint hymnal revision project for the Mennonite and General Conference Mennonite churches. As coeditor, he represented the Mennonite Church in bringing together some 1300 hymns and arranging them in a useful order for the new hymnal, the manuscript of which is to be completed by the summer of 1965.

As the Lord had willed it, Bro. Yoder had made his major contribution to the new hymnal before he died, although he did not see the work completed.

Funeral services were at the Goshen College Mennonite Church on Sunday, November 1, the day he would have observed his 47th wedding anniversary, if he would have lived.

John H. Mosemann, Paul Mininger, S. C. Yoder, and J. Robert Detweiler officiated. Also taking part was the Goshen College A Cappella Choir. Burial was in Violet Cemetery.

Joseph C. Driver, 1867-1964

By Daniel Driver and Mrs. Harry Dettwiler

Joseph Casper Driver was born Feb. 13, 1867, in Henry County, Illinois. He was the fifth child of Daniel Funk Driver and Sarah (Branner) Driver. He had six brothers and four sisters, all of whom grew to adulthood. His youngest brother, D. Arthur Driver of Howe, Ind., is the only surviving member of this large family.

His father and mother, with their three children left their home in Virginia for the West during the Civil War because of their conscientious objector's viewpoint. They came as far as Henry County, Illinois, where they settled for a few years. It was during this time that Joseph was born.

While he was still quite young, the family moved still farther west, and settled in Morgan County, Missouri, near Versailles. Here he grew to manhood, and attended the public schools of the community. He later entered the State Teacher's College at Warrensburg, Mo. Here he became ill, and had to return to his home. This ended his formal education.

As a young man, he spent a short time in Johnson County, Missouri, working as a farm hand. During this time J. S. Coffman came to this place to conduct a series of evangelistic meetings. It was in one of these meetings that Brother Driver was converted at the age of 25. Soon afterward he returned to his home community. He served as Sunday-school superintendent at the Mt. Zion Church. This was one of the early Sunday schools of the church.

On Sept. 17, 1896, he was united in marriage to Anna Kauffman by M. S. Steiner, who was at that time in the community holding evangelistic meetings. His bride was the youngest daughter of Bishop David D. and Elizabeth (Winey) Kauffman. Her father had been serving the Mt. Zion congregation with Daniel F. Driver, father of Joseph. However, David D. Kauffman passed away just one month before his daughter's marriage.

Six children were born to this family. Daniel D.; Menno S., who died at the age of 10 years; Alma R. (Mrs. Harve Snyder), who died near La Junta, Colo., Nov. 18, 1955; Esther M. (Mrs. Harley Evers); Jacob B.; and Lydia E. (Mrs. Harry Dettwiler).

Just one month after his marriage, Brother Driver was ordained by lot to the ministry to fill the vacancy left by the death of his wife's father. He served here as pastor with his father for nearly 10 years. Because of his wife's ill health, they moved with their family to the La Junta community. During his three years' stay here, he served with Dan Brunk, his son John M. Brunk, George Ross, Jake Heatwole, and others in church extension work in the Fairview community west of La Junta, and the East Holbrook community north of La Junta. An organized church grew out of the work at East Holbrook.

In 1908 he received a call with John M. Brunk to serve the Mennonite congregation near Larned, Kansas. They served here, with Dan Zook serving the congregation as deacon. During this time he and his wife lost their second son, Menno, by death. His wife also underwent serious surgery, and in 1911 they returned to their former home near Versailles, Mo. Within the first year, he was called to serve as pastor of the Bethel congregation near Garden City, Mo. He moved to a farm about one half mile south of the church in February, 1912. He served here as co-pastor with the brethren Hauder, W. E. Helmuth, and James Steiner. In the fall of 1912 he was ordained bishop by his brother-in-law, Daniel Kauffman. He served as bishop not only of the Bethel congregation, but for periods of time the congregations of Mt. Zion, Versailles, Mo.; Berea, Birch Tree, Mo.; rural missions in the Ozark region of Missouri; Culp, Ark.; and city missions in Kansas City.

He sold his farm in 1943 and bought a house in Garden City, Mo. He still continued to serve as bishop and pastor of the Bethel congregation. His bishop duties elsewhere had been taken over by J. R. Shank, Versailles, Mo., and Raymond Hershberger, pastor of the Sycamore Grove congregation. This church was located two miles north of the Bethel church. In 1947 the Bethel and Sycamore Grove congregations merged. Brother Driver and his wife at that time moved to La Junta, Colo., to be near their oldest daughter, Mrs. Harve Snyder. They became members of the East Holbrook congregation and remained in this church until his death April 8, 1964, at the age of 97 years.

Brother Driver never lost his interest for the cause of Christ through the Mennonite Church. He was interested in its conferences and ministerial meetings, often serving on committees. At one time he served as moderator of the Missouri-Kansas Conference. He took an active part in the merger of the Western A.M. Conference and the Mennonite conferences west of the Mississippi River. He gave helpful service in the reorganization of the Missouri-Iowa and the Kansas-Nebraska conferences. These districts then became the Iowa-Nebraska and the Missouri-Kansas conferences. The name Missouri-Kansas Conference later was changed to South Central Conference. He was also interested in, and gave his counsel in the formation of the Rocky Mountain Conference in 1961.

He was mentally alert until the end and keenly interested in the work of the church. His pew at the church was seldom empty. His presence there and at conferences and ministerial meetings served to inspire others in the work of the church. The good influence of his life continues to live in the communities where he was used of God.

Aaron Mast, 1880-1964

By Waldo E. Miller

Aaron Mast was born July 31, 1880, the youngest son of Amos and Sarah (Kauffman) Mast. He was born near Cap, Pa. In 1908 he married Lavina Stoltzfus. Seven children were born to this union. One daughter, Alyce, Mrs. Floyd Sieber, is serving as a missionary in Argentina, South America.

His early homelife was such that he never failed to sense the value of Christian living. Due to the absence of a Mennonite Sunday School, he attended a nearby Methodist Sunday School. In the young years of his life his mother started a Sunday school in their home. It was largely due to this influence that Aaron Mast emerged as a man of God.

At the age of sixteen he was converted to Christianity and united with the Millwood Church, then a part of the Ohio

Conference. During these formative years he took advantage of every churchwide activity possible. He displayed a keen interest in the greater Mennonite Church and the emerging mission interest. He was active in Sunday-school conferences and other related church work. These activities in younger years served to acquaint him with various church and mission personalities, among them Daniel Kauffman, J. S. Shoemaker, S. E. Allgyer, Aaron Loucks, and others.

On Nov. 23, 1919, he was ordained deacon at the Millwood Church. He served as deacon until he was ordained to the ministry in 1921. He was asked to serve as pastor of the Holly Grove Church near Westover, Maryland. This is said to have been a "venture of faith." From Westover he began the activities which portrayed his life through his years in the ministry.

At the invitation of the Ohio Conference he moved to Belleville, Pa., in 1934, where he served until his retirement in 1955. In spite of somewhat difficult obstacles in the Belleville community, he felt strongly that the Lord was leading him to Belleville. He began his work at Maple Grove, Belleville, in March, 1934. In November, 1934, he was ordained bishop by S. E. Allgyer and J. S. Mast. He served in this capacity until 1957.

Aaron Mast was a self-educated man. His formal education terminated at the age of 15. Being well taught in earlier years he understood the value of continuing his quest for knowledge throughout his life. It is apparent that he learned well, for he was a capable speaker and an outstanding Bible student. He was able to converse with learned men. There was little indication of lack of wisdom and knowledge in his manner of speech.

Aaron Mast was an expository preacher. He was an ardent student of the Pauline Epistles. Ephesians and Romans were his favorite books. He had a gift of expository systematic interpretation of Scripture. In early years his delivery was very forceful. This method of preaching over the years became much more moderate, yet always displayed great depth and spiritual discernment. He was easily understood by young and old alike.

He was a friend to the young people. Many contemporary church leaders were encouraged by Aaron Mast. He was not a psychologist as such, but his friendly, fatherly counsel was sought by young and old alike.

It is often stated by Aaron Mast's contemporaries that he was convinced of his destiny. What he learned to be truth from the Scripture he applied to his daily activities and continued without hesitation. He was no fanatic. If a better application to truth was revealed, he readily accepted it. His preaching was with definite conviction, yet with extreme patience. There was no room for compromise. He was generally practical without being vague. He dealt carefully yet firmly with young people. He tended to mellow with age and experience. This permeated into patient graciousness through the years.

He was instrumental in forming what is now Mennonite General Conference. He was a member of the General Conference Executive Committee for twelve years. He was chairman of the Ministerial Committee for several years. He also served on the Goodwill Committee and the Interboard Committee. He served as moderator of the Ohio Conference for a brief time. He was vice president of the Allegheny Mission Board 1944-47. He also served on numerous Allegheny Conference committees. He was definitely a "conference" man.

When Aaron Mast received the call to come to Belleville, he was aware of several difficult problems which existed in the churches of Big Valley. There was no promise of success, as the church was struggling to emerge from an operational pattern of long standing. This was a sensitive period; however, Aaron was tactful in winning the confidence of the congregation as he searched carefully and expounded in depth on the purpose and function of the church.

It was during the years of his ministry at Belleville that Aaron Mast emerged as a churchman of stature. There was no area of the Mennonite Church foreign to him. He became a capable and active evangelist. He was in demand as a Bible expositor, or a contemporary speaker. He was often gone from home for extended periods of time. During one period he preached every night for six weeks. When he returned home, his voice was noticeably stronger, and it was difficult for him to again settle into the home church routine of activities.

Aaron Mast was also a community man. Since he earned his livelihood as a painter, he became well acquainted in the community. In this vocation and as a minister he was able to gain the respect of the varied cultural groups. He was always cooperative, and he exercised his leadership in various joint efforts of the churches of Big Valley and Mifflin County.

He was instrumental in beginning a radio program sponsored by the local congregation. The radio program formerly known as "The Belleville Gospel Singers," now, "Invitation to Life," is in the twentieth year of continuous broadcast. Aaron served as speaker and adviser for the first seven years. He was also instrumental in the groundwork for the present Belleville Mennonite School. He recognized the value of education in a spiritual atmosphere.

Aaron Mast never actually retired from church work nor the task of painting. When the time came for him to lay aside the responsibility of the pastorate, he was prepared. He had anticipated this through the years. At the age of 68 he graciously passed the responsibility of the pastorate to younger hands. Later he resigned as active bishop and continued only at the call of local groups.

During the late years of his life, he spent the time painting, preaching, and continuing in fellowship with the church. It was in the last years of his life that he was able to converse freely on the portions of his work which he might have done differently. It was in this golden era that he enjoyed a fuller graduation of the virtues which he had striven for during a lifetime of church work. God had blessed him, and he enjoyed it.

After an illness of several months due to a heart condition, he went to be with the Lord on March 25, 1964. Funeral services were conducted at the Maple Grove Mennonite Church near Atglen, Pa., in charge of Abner Stoltzfus. Testimonies to his life were given at the service by E. C. Bender, Aaron Stoltzfus, David Yoder, and Isaac K. Metzler. Interment was made at Atglen, Pa., in the Maple Grove Church Cemetery.

Four Lancaster Conference Bishops

It has been unusual that in one year, 1964, four bishops in our conference area were called from their active labors to their heavenly reward. These were Christian W. Frank and John S. Martin in January, Noah W. Risser in March, and William M. Strong in July. Respective accounts of their life and labors follow. Their passing was preceded by two bishops in 1963, Amos S. Horst in January and John A. Kennel in October. We bow in submission to God's will.

Three additional bishops have been ordained during 1964: Amos H. Sauder, H. Raymond Charles, and Melvin Kauffman. Other ordinations are being planned.—J. Paul Graybill.

John S. Martin, 1908-1964

By Chester C. Graybill

John S. Martin was born Oct. 9, 1908, the son of Milton H. and Henrietta Weaver Martin, the seventh generation in lineal descent from pioneer David Martin who settled at Weaverland in 1728.

Born in Earl Township near Earl Union schoolhouse, he moved with his parents in 1915 to a farm in West Earl Township adjoining the Groffdale church. He was fourth in a family of seven children. He attended Good's school in West Earl Township and graduated from the New Holland High School in 1927.

John became a Christian early in his youth and was baptized by Noah H. Mack and received into fellowship by Bishop Benjamin Weaver, Feb. 3, 1924. He soon became an active and willing worker in the church as a Sunday-school teacher and Sunday-school superintendent. In the winter Bible schools held in the district he served for a number of years as a teacher and director.

He married on Sept. 21, 1935, Elmeda Bowman, daughter of Jacob and Anna Stauffer Bowman. They started house-keeping at Voganville. For a number of years he was engaged in bookkeeping with business firms in New Holland. In 1946 he returned to his father's farm where he remained the rest of his life. To this union was born one daughter, Henrietta, married to John Shertzer.

He was ordained to the ministry, Jan. 19, 1949, by Mahlon Witmer at Groffdale. He was chosen from a class of seven. He was used as an evangelist throughout the conference on a number of occasions.

According to records he conducted fifty evangelistic services, the last one being at Cedar Hill in September, 1963. Besides serving in various churches in the county he labored in the Washington-Baltimore district, in Union County, Pa., in Franklin County, Pa., and in Florida and Alabama at various places.

He was ordained bishop, Feb. 1, 1962, at Groffdale by Mahlon Witmer from a class of five to serve with Bishop Mahlon Witmer.

At the time of his death he was serving on a number of conference committees. He served on the Philhaven Hospital Board from its beginning, on the Nonconformity Committee, on the Eastern Mennonite College Advisory Council, on the Mission Board Nominating Committee, on a study committee concerning hospitalization, on the Voluntary Service Committee, and on the recently formed Conference Program Committee.

On Jan. 16, 1964, he conducted the devotional service in the monthly Bishop Board meeting. Two days later he was in the presence of the Lord.

His last sermon was preached at Millwood, Sunday evening, Jan. 12. He died Saturday, Jan. 18, 1964. The funeral was held at the Groffdale church, Jan. 21. Mahlon Witmer, his senior bishop, assisted by Eli Sauder and Curvin Buchen conducted the service. The burial was in the adjoining cemetery.—Pastoral Messenger.

Noah W. Risser, 1877-1964

By Ira D. Landis

Noah W. Risser was born Oct. 6, 1877, west of Lawn, near Elizabethtown, Pa., on the Risser homestead, the sixth child of John S. Risser and Mary Ann Shenk Risser. He was reared on the farm and attended the nearest school for his formal education.

On Dec. 26, 1911, he married Minnie Gruber, daughter of Joseph and Harriet (Epler) Gruber. They attended Sunday school and church at the Stauffer Mennonite Church. They started farming near the present homestead near Deodate, Pa.

In the fall of 1914, Noah B. Bowman of Bowmansville was holding revival meetings at the Stauffer meetinghouse. On the last night before Minnie left the carriage, Noah W. asked her about standing for Christ. She said, "I thought you should have asked me long already." They stood together and, after instruction under Bishop John C. Ebersole, were baptized at Risser on May 17, 1914.

Out of a group of three he was ordained to the ministry by Bishop Ebersole, June 3, 1919. On Feb. 26, 1920, he was ordained bishop by Peter R. Nissley.

On Feb. 10, 1921, he married Elsie F. Brubaker, his first wife having died Feb. 26, 1920. There were no children by either marriage, but Walter E. Habecker was reared in their home.

Noah W. Risser early entered the evangelistic field and served at many churches.

At Stauffer, where he was ordained at the age of 44 the membership increased from 112 to 157. In his bishop district 43 years ago there were seven churches, thirteen ordained persons and 957 members; today there are eleven churches, twenty-five ordained persons, and 1,022 members.

He ordained the following bishops: Simon C. Bucher, Christian K. Lehman, Clarence E. Lutz; ministers: Isaac M. Baer, L. C. Good, Wilmer A. Hunsecker, Martin R. Kraybill, Walter W. Oberholtzer, Menno D. Sell, Walter A. Shank, and Russel S. Zeager; deacons: Walter D. Keener, Phares Z. Longenecker, and Peter G. Smith.

He served on the Religious Welfare Board of Philhaven and of L.M.S. from the beginning of each, and for a number of years on the committee serving in the Washington Co.-Franklin Co. Conference.

He served as assistant moderator of Lancaster Conference from June, 1946, to March, 1953, but declined the responsibility of moderatorship although he was in line for it. He served as bishop with Clarence E. Lutz since 1950 until his death. He peacefully died on March 3, 1964, in his sitting room while conversing with his wife.

Funeral services were conducted at the Risser Church by his local ministry: Clarence E. Lutz, Peter Smith, Harold Forwood, and Frank Zeager, the latter bringing an appropriate Gospel message from Gal. 6:6, 7.—Adapted from Mennonite Research Journal.

William M. Strong, 1900-1964

by J. Paul Graybill

William M. Strong was born Oct. 12, 1900. He was baptized at Slate Hill by Bishop Benjamin Zimmerman in March, 1916. He was ordained to the ministry on Nov. 20, 1938, by Noah H. Mack, and to the bishop office on Dec. 18, 1949, by Simon G. Bucher.

As the oldest in the family, his dying mother requested that he take particular care and interest in his brother and three sisters. He rejoiced to see all of them in time becoming members of the Slate Hill congregation. When he was a baby a nurse left a kerosene lamp burning at his bedside. This eventually burned part of the mattress, but little William was saved for service in his church.

He had a keen interest in conducting cottage meetings in the community as a layman, and he was active in Sunday-school work. He helped at the former Fisherville Mission, in the missions in Harrisburg, and was a director of the Hebron Camp Association.

He and Joseph Rupp spent many evenings in cottage meetings in the community. To many of these meetings they were accompanied by the young people of the church. Brother Rupp and Brother William were both interested in Old Testament types and spent many evenings with other members in their homes studying these types and figures.

Brother Strong's missionary endeavors were also seen as he sat and talked with folks in Harrisburg prior to the opening of the Mennonite work there. He encouraged others to go with him to street meetings and cottage meetings. He spent many years ministering to the men who came into the Bethesda Mission. Once a month he with members of his congregation held services there. This interest continued even during his last illness. He also was a great encouragement to those who assisted with the opening of the Mennonite witness in Harrisburg. Becoming a bishop did not dampen his missionary fervor. He had a great joy in visiting the church in Anderson, S.C., where he ordained James Harris, who learned to know Christ at the Mennonite Mission in Harrisburg. Brother Harris became the first Negro Mennonite minister in Lancaster Conference.

Another area of service was his continued interest in the young brethren who spent their CPS days in work at the State Hospital in Harrisburg.

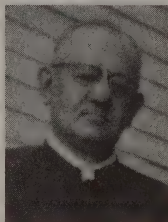

As a young man he attended Bible School in Harrisburg for a number of winters. Later he attended Eastern Mennonite School for two years, graduating from the Bible course in 1927. Throughout his ministry he continued to take many Bible courses at home.

He ordained Noah H. Hege, Paul M. Weaver, Norman L.

Zimmerman, Daniel M. Longenecker, Marvin L. Ruth, James Harris, Mervin J. Baer as ministers; also Clarence L. Kuhns, Laban C. Zimmerman, Owen A. Hertzler and Daniel N. Kraybill, deacons. He performed numerous marriages and served at most of the funerals in the district since the last ordination. His bishop charge included Slate Hill, Churchtown, Diller, Mountain View, Harrisburg, Anderson, S.C., and Hub City, Wis.

His death occurred on Sunday, July 26, 1964. Funeral services were held at the Slate Hill Church on July 29. Simon G. Bucher and David N. Thomas brought messages with Earl Mosemann and Norman Zimmerman assisting.

He is survived by a life companion, the former Emma E. Wenger, three daughters: Betty, wife of Dr. Ralph D. Zehr; Marilyn, wife of J. Mervin Leaman; and Carole at home; one brother, Samuel, and three sisters.

Christian W. Frank, 1903-1964

By Christian E. Charles

Christian W. Frank was born April 10, 1903, in Manheim Township about midway between East Petersburg and Lititz, Pa., in the farm home of Phares and Ellen Frank. On Aug. 27, 1929, he was married to Mae Rohrer of the East Petersburg Mennonite congregation. To this union were born four children: Elizabeth, Ruth (who preceded him in death on Nov. 20, 1956), Carl and Clair, twin boys.

He was baptized and received into church membership on April 30, 1931, by Bishop Isaac Brubaker at Salunga. He was ordained to the ministry Sept. 5, 1935, by Henry E. Lutz. He was ordained bishop by Amos S. Horst, conference moderator, on Jan. 8, 1961 (to fill the vacancy left by the death of Henry E. Lutz) for the Landisville District, which includes the Landisville, East Petersburg, Mt. Joy, Chestnut Hill, and Marietta congregations.

Our brother was a spiritual father to many in the church, and was a firm defender of the faith. His sudden death was a shock to his many friends throughout the county, and was a great loss to the church. He used the gifts the Lord blessed him with and was faithful to his calling and his charge. He lived sacrificially in his personal life.

He conducted a number of evangelistic services and served as a teacher in the Regional Bible Schools for a few winters. He studied late into the night on Sunday, Dec. 29, 1963, after returning from the East Petersburg church services, in preparation for the messages he was planning to give at five regional Bible schools, beginning at Weaverland on the subject, "The Holy Spirit in the Life of the Church."

He was stricken the next morning, and was called home the following Sunday, Jan. 5, 1964.—From Pastoral Messenger.

TANGANYIKA MENNONITE CHURCH

The work in this area was formerly administered by the Tanganyika Mennonite Mission. In 1960 the Tanganyika Mennonite Church was formally organized (see Church Directory). The work formerly administered by the mission was turned over to the church with the exception of the Mara Hills School which is administered by the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities through a local board consisting of three missionaries. The former mission properties have been turned over to the church and the Tanganyika Mennonite Mission as such has been dissolved.

Following is a list of missionaries appointed by the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities for service in Tanzania. All of these with the exception of the Mara Hills School are responsible to the Tanganyika Mennonite Church for their assignment and work.

* Note only 4.6% of the membership responded to the questionnaire. We should not assume the other 95.4% of the conference is giving at this level.
† Rocky Mountain has a completely integrated conference budget. This amount is distributed to the normal conference causes.
‡ This total includes $37,157 which is not allocated to any specific cause. Some congregations reported only totals and not breakdowns for distribution.
§ Total membership in the 18 conferences is 83,052.

Church Directory

ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY

EXPLANATION OF SYMBOLS

Following is an explanation of symbols used in the church directories. For the most part unorganized congregations may be considered as missions; however, some of the larger missions are considered as organized congregations. Names of the ministry appearing in boldface indicate pastors.

*Bishop
†Deacon
‡Licensed Minister
§Student Pastor
or lay minister Missionary
¶Retired
‡†Licensed Deacon
Minister on general preaching duty

On leave of absence
Without official duties in congregation
§Regional overseer or director of zone
‡Sponsored by district mission board
††Sponsored by local board or local congregation
‡†Sponsored by Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities
§§§Sponsored by individuals.
